POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT: VIOLIN INSTRUCTOR

Bloomingdale School of Music is seeking candidates for the position of Violin Instructor. The ideal candidate has a strong dedication to teaching, has taught students of different ages and levels. The successful candidate should be energetic, organized, has excellent communication skills, and has a good sense of humor. The ability to work effectively with students, parents, staff, and other faculty members is a must. A master’s degree in violin or viola performance or pedagogy or equivalent experience is strongly recommended. Saturdays will be a required teaching day.

Duties
The Instructor will teach students of all levels, abilities, and ages; work with students and parents to form and meet semester goals; complete end-of-term progress reports; and prepare students for recital performances. The successful candidate will be available for a minimum of 5 hours of teaching per week and have a schedule that will enable him/her to be present throughout the year, maintain consistent weekly schedule, and complete necessary make-up lessons in a timely way. The instructor is encouraged to engage him/herself and students in BSM community events and performances throughout the year.

Salary and Benefits
Pay is competitive with other New York City community music schools and is based on past teaching experience and education. Benefits include paid faculty concerts, professional development opportunities, tax-exempt Metrocards, and access to rehearsal space.

Starting Date
September 16, 2015

About Bloomingdale School of Music
Bloomingdale School of Music is a nonprofit community music school located on Manhattan's Upper West Side and serving over 600 students from all over greater New York City. The school has an extraordinary faculty, an innovative program, and a fifty year record of excellent teaching and concert presenting. More information may be found at the school's website www.bsmny.org. Bloomingdale is a certified member of the National Guild of Community Schools of the Arts and a founding member of the New York City Coalition of Community Schools of the Arts. The school is housed in a five-story brownstone at 323 West 108th Street, between Broadway and Riverside Drive. The facility has 14 teaching studios, a recital hall, and offices.

Contact
Cover letters and resumes will be reviewed starting July 13th. Please submit all materials no later than July 27th, 2015. Only those being considered will be contacted.

Email submissions: jobs1@bsmny.org
Please put Violin Teacher in the subject.

Bloomingdale School of Music EOE institution/employer and is deeply committed to diversity and inclusion. BSM does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, veteran status, height, weight, or marital status in employment or the provision of services and is an equal access/equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.