IGNITE THE MUSIC

Join us for Bloomingtondale School of Music's annual spring benefit, Ignite the Music. This year's benefit will honor our "legacy" faculty members who have been teaching with the school for an impressive 25 to 50 years!

These pillars of the Bloomingtondale community have had an immeasurable impact on the lives of so many students and families during their decades of service in music education. We look forward to hearing their stories, illustrating how they Ignite the Music in our community by igniting a passion for learning in our students. Find out more about our honorees!

When you join us for this event, YOU will be helping us Ignite the Music, as we continue to support our community of music educators in their important work. All proceeds will go towards supporting and providing access to our music programs.

ABOUT BLOOMINGDALE

Bloomingtondale School of Music's mission is to provide open access to high-quality music education to anyone who seeks it, regardless of economic status, ability level, ethnicity, or religious affiliation. Our desire is to instill a lifelong love of music through programs, partnerships, and performances. Bloomingtondale is a diverse, joyful, and multi-generational community on the Upper West Side. Activities range from introductory classes, to advanced musical training in private lessons, ensemble settings, and hundreds of free concerts each year featuring our students, faculty, and outside professional artists.
